WEATHER REPORT.
(Forecast by T. B. Lloyd.)
FRIDAY, Snow.
SATURDAY, Fair.
SUNDAY, Fair.

Elk county gives 926 majority for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

The Result.

The greatest campaign in the history of this county since 1876, has resulted in a wonderful victory for the Republican party, far beyond the expectation of the most sanguine. The result in Cameron County, giving Roosevelt and Fairbanks 824 majority, given by any county in the State according to the population. The people of this glorious country emphatically declared against free trade and soup houses. It was a magnificent endorsement.

In the county the election of Mr. Josiah Howard to the legislature by a majority of 103, after one of the most warmly contested battles, is a credit to the citizens of this county. "Vindication" was the cry and one not familiar with the circumstances would think the editor of the PRESS was the candidate and not Mr. Howard. The result is very gratifying to us, we can assure you, and thank our friends in all sections of the county for their loyalty. We have won and all Republicans can afford to be magnanimous to the enemy. "With malice toward none and charity for all" we go onward to future efforts for the advancement of Cameron county.

The defeat of Dr. E. O. Bardwell for County Treasurer, is deeply deplored and regretted, the genial Dr. being a very worthy candidate. While this was his first venture in county politics, he made a manly, clean and honorable campaign. His defeat is no discredit to him and he will remain as ever the same reliable Republican and genial gentleman.

Careless Voting.

The great number of spoiled ballots and errors of voters who placed the X in the column for Presidential Electors and failed to mark County Treasurer and Member of Assembly evidently defeated Dr. Bardwell. The combined Republican and Democratic vote for President was 333 in excess of that cast for Supreme Judge and 200 more than the combined vote for Congressman.

If it wasn't for that elephant that jackass could get up.

Married.

Mr. Freeman Baird and Miss Lillie Farrell, of Sinnamahoning, came to Emporium on Tuesday and promptly appeared before his honor, Squire Larrabee, who neatly and expediously joined them for life. The happy couple were congratulated by their friends.

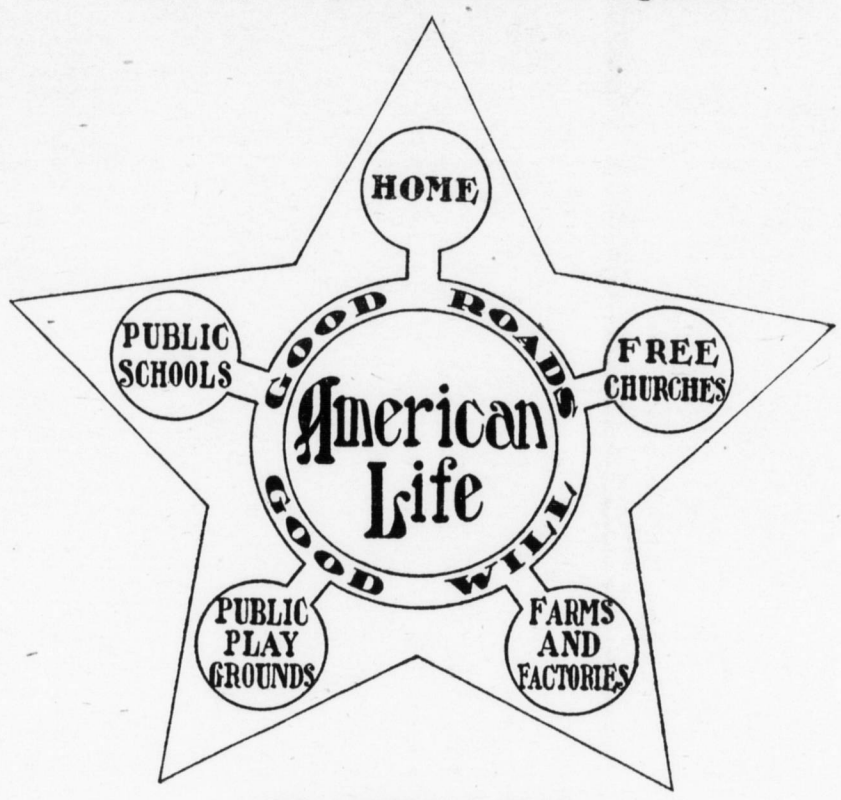
"In Silent Numbers" the Voters Talk.

The voters of Cameron county have "vindicated" the idea that they cannot be trusted to vote correctly and that their franchise can be purchased for a song or at any price. Our faith has been greatly strengthened in the ability of our citizens throughout the county to discriminate between "vindication" and revenge.

Have you read that very interesting magazine, The Smart Set?

United They Make the Star Shine.

They cannot shine alone and the Star becomes dim if any one point is cut off or neglected.



THE AMERICAN STAR.

I am pleased to acknowledge the receipt of such good will and courtesy from all the people of the county whom I met during my canvass of the districts. I am only sorry that I could not get around to see everybody; and am more than pleased to express my thanks for the confidence of the majority of the voters as indicated by the election.

It will be hard to more than half-way live up to the high standard which the writers in the PRESS have promised for me, but I have no private pledges to keep nor personal grudges hold against anyone and shall do my best to be the representative of the whole people, irrespective of party or creed, and trust that you will all unite with me in peace and good-will to try and make the "Star" shine.

Very truly and thankfully yours,
JOSIAH HOWARD.

Try it.

An exchange speaks of a man who it is said always paid for his paper a year in advance. As a result he has never been sick in his life, never had corns on his toes nor toothache; his potatoes never rust, his babies never cry at night, his wife never scolds and he succeeded in serving three years on the school board without being cussed.

First Signs.

The first signs of having taken cold are a chill or shiver—a scrapy throat or a sneeze—a disposition to perspire and always that tired feeling.

A few doses of Dr. Humphrey's "Seventy-seven" will restore the checked circulation, start the blood coursing though the veins and break up the cold.

"77" will also break up Colds that hang on and do not yield to other treatment.

"77" cures Coughs, Colds, Grip, Influenza, Catarrh, Pains and Soreness in the Head and Chest, Hoarsenes, Sore Throat, General Prostration and Fever. All Druggists, 25 cents each, or mailed. Humphreys' Medicine Co., Cor. William and John Streets, New York.

"And her name was Maud," but Maud was on the other side this time.

Real enjoyment is had when reading that clever magazine, The Smart Set.

We don't believe in crowing over our defeated friends. We'll let these roosters do that.

The Country is Republican.

The victory of the President is far more than the success of a man. It is the answer of the United States to those who would keep the Nation in leading strings and coop it up within its continental seas.

It is the answer to the Democratic plea that this is a white man's country.

It is the reply to the advocates of tariff smashing, whether they pretend to be careful revisionists or believers in the doctrine that protection is robbery.

It is a fresh commission to the bravest of Presidents to undertake the mighty task of bringing industrial organizations surely within control of the law.

It is notice to the world that we intend to manage the Philippines until they are ready, in our judgment, for independence.

It is the recognition and approval of the splendid policy of promoting the world's peace by arbitration agreement so happily inaugurated and so rapidy proceeding.

It is the strongest evidence that intelligence rules in the United States and that falsehood, mudslinging, charges of dishonor brought against honest men and the entire round of arguments of vituperation are wholly unprofitable.

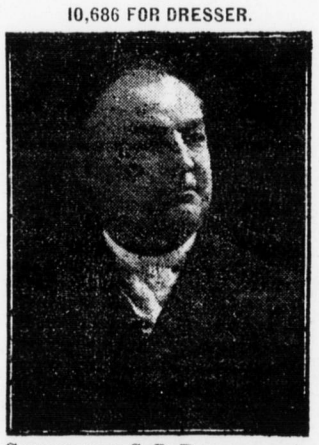
It is the final judgment of the Nation on Hillism.

It is the most emphatic condemnation of Bourbonism.

Lecture at Howard Siding.

Next Saturday evening, Nov. 12, in the school building at Howard Siding, Mr. Fred Julian will lecture on his trip to the "Oriential Countries." Mr. Julian's lecture is not only very interesting but is highly instructive—it is an educator. He will also have with him many articles which are fine specimens of foreign workmanship and skill. These alone are worth the small price of admission that will be charged. After the lecture, refreshments will be served.

10,686 FOR DRESSER.



Congressman S. R. Dresser received a tremendous endorsement from his District, viz: Clearfield, 7,000; Centre, 350; Cameron, 336, McKean, 3,000—over 10,000 majority in the district. His opponent, Mr. C. W. Shaffer, of this county, wired his congratulations

At Beechwood.

Preaching service next Sunday, Nov. 13, in the Beechwood M. E. church at 10:30 o'clock in the morning as was announced.

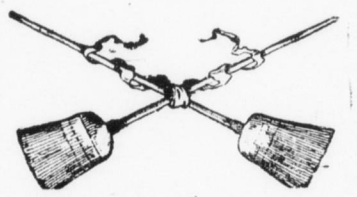
The Star Course.

The attention of the patrons of the Star Course is again called to the fact that the opening number will be given Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 24, the Amphion Male Quartet Co., with Nellie Nichols as entertainer being the attraction. It is desired that all tickets be in the hands of subscribers before the opening of the chart, Tuesday, Nov. 22, and the co-operation of all interested persons to that end is earnestly requested. The committee is endeavoring to ascertain the pleasure of all, but if anyone should be overlooked, a word to the pastor or Mr. Weiman or to any member of the following committee of ladies will receive prompt attention: Mrs. Strayer, Mrs. Heilman, Mrs. Rentz, Mrs. Haupt, Mrs. Julian and Miss Sadie Chapman.

The Course is the best, not an inferior number and the nominal price, $1.50, places it within the reach of all.

824 majority for President Roosevelt is the largest vote ever given a candidate in this county, who had opposition.



Pennsylvania's majority continues to pile up, now being 490,000. It may reach half a million.

Hon. W. T. Young was defeated in Clinton, by 872 votes, for Legislature.

Republicans elect two Representatives and Prothonotary in Lycoming.

Missouri votes for Roosevelt is too much for the old fire-eaters to swallow.

Mr. Blumle may well exclaim, "God save me from my friends!"

The Solid South is "busted."

The Republicans have 104 majority in House.

Maryland, West Virginia and Missouri are in the Republican column once more.

Dr. Albra W. Baker was seriously ill last week from obstruction of the bowels, but is now almost as well as usual. Mrs. Baker, who has been suffering from Bright's disease for several months, is somewhat improved.—Williamsport Bulletin.

Henry Zwald returned on Wednesday from visiting at Ridgway, guest of his sister, Mrs. Zurfluh.

Birthday Surprise.

Harry Sprung was very pleasantly surprised by a number of his friends, Wednesday evening, the occasion being his 20th birthday. Refreshments were served later in the evening, and a very enjoyable time was had by all. Harry proved a congenial host.

Rates by the year, or for six or three months are low and uniform, and will be furnished on application.

Legal and Official Advertising per square three times or less, $2; each subsequent insertion 50 cents per square.

Local notices 10 cents per line for one insertion; 5 cents per line for each subsequent consecutive insertion.

Obituary notices over five lines, 10 cents per line. Simple announcements of births, marriages and deaths will be inserted free.

Business cards, five lines or less, $5 per year; over five lines, at the regular rates of advertising.

No local inserted for less than 75 cents per issue.

JOB PRINTING.

The Job department of the PRESS is complete and affords facilities for doing the best class of work. PARTICULAR ATTENTION PAID TO LAW PRINTING.

No paper will be discontinued until arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publisher.

Papers sent out of the county must be paid for in advance.

Effects of Fat Eating.

Animal fats like lanolin have a tendency to increase the growth of hair and some fats coarsen the skin; therefore use so far as possible the vegetable oils. Those who are inclined to have hair on the lip should rub very little with oils of any kind. Dry skin should have creams, but little benzoin, while for greasy skins this is one of the best of facial dressings. Common cream, either sweet or sour, is a fine cosmetic. The use of rainwater will be found helpful to all skins, whatever their texture.—Chicago Daily News.

In the Moonshine Country.

While looking over some mining property in Bartow county, Ga., last fall we saw a cornfield high up on the side of a very steep hill. There a small clearing had been made in the dense forest. Down where we were in the valley it seemed almost impossible for any four-legged creature except a goat to get up or down. "How in the world do they ever get their corn crop down from the mountainside?" I asked my cracker guide. Laconically he replied: "In jugs."—Lippincott's.

Some Pumpkins.

A single pumpkin vine at Oregon City, in defiance of the dryest season that Oregon has experienced for many years, produced eight perfect pumpkins ranging from 18 to 26 inches in diameter. Posey county, Indiana, whose record as a prolific producer of this pioneer pie fruit was formerly unchallenged, will hardly enter the list against Clackamas county, Oregon, after this showing of what the latter can do in pumpkin-growing in an off season. — Portland Oregonian.

The Limit of Looping.

A new form of looping the loop is promised the Parisians. A French engineer says he will make a motor car run down a steep slope to a wide opening in the track, at the edge of which it will mount a springboard and turn a complete somersault, coming down on the other side of the opening and on a continuation of the track.

Silver Leaf for Wounds.

According to French papers the surgeons are now dressing wounds with silver leaf. The silver is simply placed on the wound or ulcer, and, as it sticks closely to the surface, a little cotton soaked in collodion is sufficient to keep it in place. The effects of this sheet of silver are said to be very remarkable.

Dahomey's Serpent Temple.

The small town of Werda, in the kingdom of Dahomey, is celebrated for its temple of serpents, a long building in which the priests keep upwards of 1,000 serpents of all sizes. These they feed with birds and frogs brought to them as offerings by the natives.—London Tit-Bits.

Curried Lobster.

Take the meat of boiled lobsters and cut in rather small pieces. Put in a saucepan with enough cream to cover, let get hot and stir in a teaspoonful of curry stirred up with a tablespoonful of cream. Turn into a hot dish and serve.—Boston Budget.

Sterilized.

It may be true that there is a bacillus of laziness in South America. But if it is no more active in northern climes than the Guatamalan ant has been there will be no need to quarantine against it.—Washington Star.

Increase in Europe.

A German contemporary states that within the last decade the population of Europe has increased about 38,000,000, of whom Russia contributed 14,000,000, and France less than 100,000.

More Than Half Insects.

According to one of the officials at the Paris Museum of Natural History, there are about 400,000 species of animals on land and in the ocean; 280,000 of these are insects.

THE EARTH WAS SHAKEN.

TON OF DYNAMITE EXPLODED AT MT. VERNON, N. Y.

Forty People Were Injured—The Explosion Tore a Hole in the Ground 80 Feet Deep—Train Had a Narrow Escape.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The explosion of over a ton of dynamite under the Bond street bridge here yesterday shook the city and the surrounding country within a radius of five miles, probably killed at least one person and injured nearly 40 others, three of whom may die. The man supposed to have been killed was an Italian in charge of the dynamite. He was seen at his post of duty just before the explosion and no trace of him has since been found.

There were 2,300 pounds of dynamite stored at the side of the deep rock cut running from the western limits of the city to the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad station, which was used for blasting a path for additional tracks.

The explosion tore a hole in the ground 80 feet deep that is now full of water from a hidden spring, wrecked the Bond street bridge over the railway tracks and broke all the windows within a quarter of a mile. The force of the explosion, as is usual, was downward, but the upheaval along the sides of the cut hurled large stones for blocks. Many houses were shifted from their foundations, walls were stripped of plaster and furniture was splintered.

A heavy train, bound for New York, was just pulling out of the Mount Vernon station when the explosion occurred and the engineer stopped until the track was clear. In another minute his train would have reached the bridge.

Most of the persons injured were caught by falling ceilings and walls in the houses nearby. Stoves in stores and dwellings were overturned and many fires were started, but in each case the flames were quickly extinguished.

NINE PEOPLE LOST THEIR LIVES.

Reservoir that Held 800,000 Gallons of Water at Winston-Salem, N. C., Broke.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 3.—A reservoir of a municipal waterworks located near the center of Winston-Salem, N. C., broke at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, causing the loss of nine lives and the injury of four or five persons.

The north side of the reservoir, which is 30 feet high, tumbled over, falling upon the home and barn of Martin V. Peeples. There were about 800,000 gallons of water in the reservoir, and the stream rushed northeast to the Southern railway cut and thence to Belo's pond, a distance of half a mile. Four tenement houses were washed several hundred yards.

The reservoir was built in 1881 by a company composed of 60 citizens. Ten years ago it and the entire water plant was sold to the city. Soon thereafter ten feet was added to the height of the reservoir, which was full of water when the collapse came. The city has just had a large stand pipe completed. It is full of water and the town is prepared to supply every demand.

The thousands of gallons of water that flowed from the reservoir formed a pond in the vicinity and it was thought that several people might have been drowned in this. The city council met and decided to drain the pond, in order to recover any bodies that might lie beneath the water.

TEN MINERS KILLED.

The Cage in Which They Were Being Lowered Fell 1,400 Feet.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 3.—One of the most appalling mine accidents in the history of the Wyoming valley for many years occurred at No. 1 Auchincloss shaft, operated by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Co. at Nanticoke, early Wednesday morning, by which ten men were hurled to instant death and three seriously injured. The men were mostly all upon the mine carriage to be lowered to the workings below.

The signal was given to the engineer, who began lowering the men. The carriage had gone but a few feet when the engineer lost control of his engines, owing to the reverse levers failing to work, and the carriage, with its load of human freight, ten in all, was dashed beyond the Ross vein, landing nearly 1,100 feet below the surface and from there they were precipitated 300 feet further into a sump.

Those who may not have been killed outright were without doubt dropped in the sump, which is fully 50 feet deep with water.

The victims all resided in Nanticoke and most of them leave families. They were Poles or Slavs with the exception of one named John Kempe.

A New Cruiser's Trial Trip.

Boston, Nov. 3.—With perfect weather conditions, the armored cruiser West Virginia yesterday went over the Cape Ann course for her official four-hour speed trial and developed an average speed of 22.14 knots per hour.

Hotel Manager was Murdered.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—A quarrel over a receipt for the payment of a board bill resulted in the killing yesterday of Hayden Y. Loring, manager of the Loring hotel, near the exposition grounds, by Norman M. Vaughan, manager of the Elks Publishing Co. Vaughan fired several shots at Loring, all of which took effect and he dropped dead. The shooting was witnessed by Vaughan's 13-year-old sister, Ona, who stood near Loring, it is said, beseeching her brother not to fire. Vaughan quietly left the hotel, went down town and was arrested.

LIBERALS SWEPT THE BOARD.

Parliamentary Elections in Canada Resulted in a Triumph for Premier Laurier.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 4.—The Dominion parliamentary elections were held Thursday. The returns point to the re-election of a Laurier government with a majority of between 60 and 70 in the house of commons, which is composed of 214 members. This is a liberal gain of about 15. The conservative leader, R. L. Borden, was defeated in his own constituency in Nova Scotia. The province of Quebec, Laurier's home, sustained the premier by returning a large liberal majority. The campaign was brief and remarkably free from political rancor, the principal issue being the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad with government aid, a project favored by the liberal government.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 4.—The liberals swept Nova Scotia in Thursday's election from Cape Brenton to Cape Sable and won the greatest victory ever achieved in the history of Canadian politics. They not only defeated Robert I. Borden, of Halifax, leader of the conservative forces in Canada, but they elected every one of the other 17 candidates of the party in the province.

Outside of the defeat of Mr. Borden, the principal individual feature of the election was the defeat in Colchester county of Seymour Gourley, the conservative member, who during his two terms at Ottawa attained considerable fame by several violent attacks on the United States.

A BATTLE WITH CROOKS.

Four Burglars Were Arrested at Barton, O., After a Desperate Fight.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Pop Shipman and Will Murphy, of Martin's Ferry, both noted crooks; Clyde Hawley, of Bellaire, and James McLaughlin, of Niles, O., were arrested at Barton, O., eight miles west of here, Thursday afternoon by the Bridgeport, O., police, headed by Mayor Jenkins and Chief of Police Thompson, of that place.

The police flagged the Cleveland express train and after a desperate battle in which all exchanged shots, the robbers were taken and landed in the county jail at St. Clairsville.

The officers were notified of their coming from Uhrichsville, O., where they robbed a postoffice Wednesday night. Some of the stolen goods, about a pint of nitro-glycerine and a full kit of burglar tools were taken from them. All are wanted for scores of other robberies.

A New Job for Booth-Tucker.

New York, Nov. 4.—It is announced that Commander Frederick Booth-Tucker, who for eight years has commanded the Salvation Army forces in the United States, is appointed to the international headquarters of the army in London and will there act as secretary for and represent all countries outside of Great Britain. This appointment will make it necessary for the commander to travel in all parts of the world. Commander Booth-Tucker's farewell meeting in New York City will be held November 15 and he will sail for London on the following day.

Arrested for Alleged Fraud.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—George Hall, of Kansas City, was arrested yesterday on the charge of using the mails to defraud. The case was worked up by Postoffice Inspector J. J. Bennett, of Kansas City, who charges that Hall secured 200 laborers to go to Valdez, Alaska, to work for the "Alaska Yukon Construction Co." and after collecting $27 from each —$2 as his fee and $25 for transportation expenses—he sent them to Alaska. Bennett declares that when the laborers reached their destination they learned that there was no such company.

Returned the Stolen Cope.

New York, Nov. 4.—The ancient ecclesiastical cope which was stolen from the cathedral of Ascoli, Italy, two years ago, and later purchased by Pierpont Morgan, has been presented to the Italian government by Mr. Morgan. The presentation was made through Baron Des Planches, the Italian ambassador, who called on Mr. Morgan in this city yesterday. The cope is now in the Victoria and Albert museum at South Kensington, England, to which it was loaned by Mr. Morgan.

Receiver for a Fraternal Society.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 4.—George C. Munger, of Syracuse, was yesterday appointed receiver for the supreme council of the Royal Templars of Temperance. The directors of the concern have advised the members that arrangements have been made to insure them at the same rate they have been paying, less all emergency assessments.

Diamond Dealers Were Indicted.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Three officers of the Preferred Mercantile Co., of Boston, the business of which was to issue contracts for diamonds on periodical instalments and mature them in numerical order, were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of depositing in the mails letters concerning a lottery.

A Famous Singer Dies.

Ravenna, O., Nov. 4.—F. J. Loudin, a native of Charlestown, Portage county, a noted negro basso and head of the Loudin jubilee singers, died at his Ravenna home Thursday, aged 62 years.

Celebrated Founders' Day.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—Not since the opening of Carnegie institute ten years ago has greater variety been inducted into the exercises of the annual founders' day than yesterday when John Morley, Great Britain's famous historian and parliamentary leader, made the principal address, Edmund Jean spoke in French of the influence of American wealth upon art, and Seth Low, ex-mayor of New York, delivered an extemporaneous talk. Andrew Carnegie, founder of the institute, remembered the occasion in an encouraging letter.

BUSINESS IMPROVES.

Steady Gains are Reported in All the Leading Branches of Manufacture.

New York, Nov. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Business improves steadily, and there is no evidence of anxiety regarding the future. Payments are more promptly met, tending to stimulate preparations for coming trade, and the disposition to limit purchases to immediate needs is gradually disappearing. Conservatism during the summer and autumn had a beneficial effect, reducing stocks to a low point. As demand broadens, this scarcity of supply produces pressure for quick delivery and prices are strengthened. Aside from inflation caused by speculation, there is no better sign of commercial progress than advancing commodity markets.

All the leading branches of manufacture are in a better position, with noteworthy activity at iron furnaces, woolen mills and footwear factories.

Railway earnings in October exceeded last year's by 7.6 per cent. Wholesome progress is recorded in the iron and steel industry, sentimental improvement being succeeded by actual business. Thus far the best news comes from blast furnaces.

Commercial failures this week in the United States are 229, against 246 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 27, against 22 last year.

A Horrible Murder.

Marshall, Mo., Nov. 5.—The dead body of Miss Rosa Butts, aged 23 years, a white servant girl of this city, was found Friday in the suburbs in a pasture. Her throat had been cut with a sharp stick, a piece of which still remained in the flesh; her left ear had been cut off and there was a bullet hole in her head. There was evidence that the girl had made a struggle for her life. A cigarette near the body and bloody tracks leading away from the spot are the only tangible clews. Miss Butts was last seen Wednesday night with two young men. Neither of the men have been located.

A New Trolley Line in Operation.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—The Detroit, Monroe & Toledo Short Line railway, a trolley line 57 miles long between Detroit and Toledo, will start its first through cars over the line to-day. The new road will run hourly cars between the two terminals from 6 a. m to 9 p. m. and will make the trip in three hours. The running time will be reduced in 20 days to two and one-half hours and limited cars will be put on later which will make the trip in two hours. At Toledo the new line will run into a union terminal station and connect with the trolley lines to Cleveland and other Ohio points.

A Free Fight Among Legislators.

Paris, Nov. 5.—Friday's sitting of the chamber of deputies was one of the stormiest in recent years, culminating when Gabriel Syveton, a nationalist deputy, stepped up to Gen. Andre, the minister of war, and slapped his face. Syveton then retreated to the uppermost row of seats, taking refuge behind members of the opposition. A tremendous tumult ensued, deputies of all parties crowding upon the floor of the house, where a free fight was soon in progress. Syveton's temporary exclusion was voted.

Runaway Caused Death.

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—A runaway car on a branch of the Pittsburg, McKeesport & Connellsville railway dashed down Versailles avenue in McKeesport yesterday and collided with a coal wagon. Thomas Farman, the motorman, was instantly killed and five passengers were injured, none seriously. Farman was crushed to death as he stood in the front end of the car making vain efforts to check it. The accident was caused by the motorman losing control of the car.

Steamship Wrecked.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 5.—The coastwise steamer Portia, with 104 passengers, struck on the Penguin islands at midnight Thursday. She was refloated subsequently, but was making so much water that the passengers took to the boats and proceeded to the mainland. The ship steamed for the nearest harbor, where she was beached to effect temporary repairs. The Portia is a new ship and was making her second voyage.

A Masked Bandit Held Up Six Men.

Redding, Cal., Nov. 5.—A masked man armed with a pistol entered a saloon at Cottonwood yesterday and lined up six men with their faces to the walls and their hands over their heads while he relieved them of $500 in cash and $1,800 in checks. Charles Emerson, one of the men who was held up, has been arrested on suspicion of complicity with the robber.

Shot His Sweetheart and Suicided.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 5.—William Muthart, a farm hand living near Munger, about eight miles from here, yesterday shot his sweetheart, Martha Zuba, three times after they had quarrelled, then sent a bullet into his own brain. He was dead when found in a nearby wood and the girl is not expected to live.

Derthick Succeeds Nash as Trustee.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—Gov. Herrick has appointed F. A. Derthick, of Mantua, Portage county, to succeed the late ex-Gov. Nash as a trustee of Ohio State university. The term ends May 12, 1909.

Rev. De Costa Dies.

New York, Nov. 5.—Rev. Benjamin F. De Costa, the Episcopal clergyman who about five years ago became a convert to the Roman Catholic church and a year ago was ordained a priest, died Friday in St. Vincent's hospital. He was 74 years of age. Before entering the Roman Catholic church Dr. De Costa was for 38 years pastor of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, holding a prominent place in the religious life of this city. He took an active part in the controversy over the admission of Dr. Briggs to the Episcopal ministry.

War News

JAPS' MOVE FLANKED.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—There is considerable anxiety here over the military situation. Little news has been received from Mukden, Gen. Sakharoff's telegram of November 1 merely indicating that matters were at a deadlock around Shakhe. The Japanese have made some moves on both flanks, which were checked, but there are no signs of a general advance by their army. Foreign reports from Port Arthur are decidedly gloomy. While the authorities continue to profess confidence in Gen. Stoessel's ability to hold out, the popular feeling is that the heroic garrison must now be near the limit of human endurance.

London, Nov. 3.—The Daily Mail, in a letter from Hakodate, describes Japanese schooners as returning with valuable cargoes of furs, the result of raiding the Russian fisheries station at Kamchatka and Commander and other island rookeries. There has been fierce fighting with the Russians and many were killed on both sides. In one case, after a fight lasting three days, the Russians captured three Japanese vessels, killing half their crews and taking remainder prisoners.

SIEGE OF PORT ARTHUR.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army, in Front of Port Arthur, by way of Che Foo, Nov. 4.—The Japanese are now in a position to commence the beginning of the end of the operations to capture the eastern fortified ridges. Their siege park has been completed by the placing of 11-inch howitzers. During the night of October 29 all the reserves advanced through a network of trenches in front of the eastern fortified ridges.

The bombardment began at dawn October 30 and infantry attacks were planned at noon against Rihlung mountain and on three Keekwan forts.

The Japanese now occupy positions which place the east side of the town at their mercy.

The last assault has gained for them positions which insure their ability to enter the main east forts whenever they are ready.

London, Nov. 4.—A dispatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg says Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, commander of the Russian troops at Port Arthur, is reported to be wounded in the leg.

The Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent, telegraphing Thursday, says that the Japanese losses during the last assault on Port Arthur were heavier than on any of the previous attacks. The bombardment, he says, was so fierce that the streets of Dalny were said to tremble as though from an earthquake.

ASSAULTS FAILED.

Che Foo, Nov. 5.—Information has been brought by Chinese that the six days of bombardment and desperate efforts on the part of the beseigers to take the fortress at Port Arthur ceased Wednesday. The Japanese took Fort No. 3, but were unable to hold it. The Japanese losses are reported to be enormous.

It is reported that the Japanese killed or wounded in front of Port Arthur during the last three months approximate 40,000.

There are persistent rumors that the Japanese have occupied the forts of Rihlung Mountain and certain forts of the Kekwan Mountain group, but well informed Japanese here consider these rumors as premature. These Japanese, however, are confident that the end of the Russian occupation of Port Arthur is fast approaching.

The fact that Gen. Nogi, commander of the third Japanese army before Port Arthur, has allowed press dispatches to leave the front of the base of his operations is looked upon as strongly indicating the confident spirit of the besiegers.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

Without Provocation Was the Attack on English Trawlers by Russian Warships.

Hull, Eng., Nov. 3.—"That George Smith and William Leggett were, at about 12:30 a. m. on October 22, while out fishing with trawls aboard the British steam trawler Crane, with board of trade marks exhibited and regulation lights burning, killed by shots fired without warning or provocation from certain Russian war vessels at a distance of about a quarter of a mile."

This is the jury's verdict at the coroner's inquest on the fishermen victims of the North Sea tragedy. At the request of the British government this conservative award was rendered by the first court of inquiry preceding the sessions of the international tribunal. The government asked the jury not to find a verdict of willful murder or manslaughter because "delicate negotiations are going on, which should not be made more difficult, and they ought not to let anyone think they had prejudged the case before having heard both sides."

In consequence the jury simply set forth the facts proved by the evidence of physicians, experts on explosives and the trawlers themselves.

Robbers Killed a Bank's Cashier.

Cody, Wyo., Nov. 2.—The First National Bank of Cody was held up yesterday by four bandits and the cashier, R. R. Middaugh, killed. The robbers rode into town and went to the bank and dismounted. One entered the bank and the others held the horses outside. Cashier Middaugh refused the robber's demand for money and was shot and instantly killed. The noise of the shooting brought a crowd to the bank, but the robbers fled instantly after the shooting without attempting to get money. All the men in town were soon in hot pursuit.

TELEPATHY TELLS DEATH.

Mother and Brother Nearly 900 Miles Away, Awakened—At Same Moment Relative Dies.

While neither had previously given a thought to things occult, Thomas Muir and his mother, of Plainfield, N. J., are now converts to the theory of telepathy.

When they went to St. Louis a few days ago all the members of the family at home were in the best of health.

Shortly after midnight of their second day at St. Louis Muir awoke with a start, found himself in a nervous and apprehensive state of mind, and was not able to return to sleep.

Referring to the matter at the breakfast table, he was informed that his mother had passed through an experience similar to his. They had awakened at precisely the same moment.

Before they had left the table a telegram was handed to Muir informing him that his brother had fallen from a ladder the day before and that he had died at the very moment when the pair at St. Louis, 825 miles away as the crow flies, had been aroused from sleep by some subtle warning of ill tidings.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Mrs. Pare, wife of C. B. Pare, a prominent resident of Glasgow, Ky., says: "I was suffering from a complication of kidney troubles. Besides a bad back, I had a great deal of trouble with the secretions, which were exceedingly variable, sometimes excessive and at other times scanty. The color was high, and passages were accompanied with a scalding sensation. Doan's Kidney Pills soon regulated the kidney secretions, making their color normal and banished the inflammation which caused the scalding sensation. I can rest well, my back is strong and sound and I feel much better in every way."

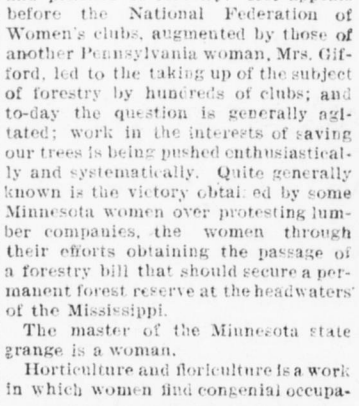
WOMEN IN NEW WORK

THEY ARE FINDING FARMING A PROFITABLE OCCUPATION.

State Agricultural Schools Teaching Girls as Well as Boys Scientific Methods—Some Instances of Success.

The healthfulness of outdoor work is wooing clerks and office men away from indoor, sedentary occupations; also it is attracting women, and gradually we are changing our attitude of pity for the women that toil in the fields to approval of her engaging in at least the lighter labors of agriculture.

Little by little women are entering into the outside work of the farm, doing more than merely look after the chickens and other barnyard fowls. The growth of state agricultural schools is teaching the girl as well as the boy something of the science of agriculture.



IN THE VINEYARDS.

and the former, being encouraged to take active interest in the new methods taught, is helping towards reforms that shall aid us to throw off the reputation of being wasteful farmers.

The west, especially, has shown favor to the adoption of women of some agricultural occupation. In California women have given practical demonstration of their fitness to be ranked as agriculturists, and have been successful in the management of vineyards, olive orchards, and dairies, and one woman has for years had sole control of a stock farm near Fresno, where are raised most of the Percherons used by the city fire department.

In the preservation and care of our threatened forests, there is now evidenced widespread interest among women. A Pennsylvania girl, Miss Dock, of Harrisburg, through travels with her father in the woodland regions of her state, became a sincere lover of the forests, and presently set to work at serious study of botany and what forestry was offered at the University of Michigan. On the completion of her studies, she traversed Pennsylvania back and forth to talk at teachers' and farmers' institutes on the neglect of forest lands, the crying need for knowledge and practice of forestry. Her appeals before the National Federation of Women's clubs, augmented by those of another Pennsylvania woman, Mrs. Gifford, led to the taking up of the subject of forestry by hundreds of clubs; and to-day the question is generally agitated; work in the interests of saving our trees is being pushed enthusiastically and systematically. Quite generally known is the victory obtained by some Minnesota women over protesting lumber companies, the women through their efforts obtaining the passage of a forestry bill that should secure a permanent forest reserve at the headwaters of the Mississippi.

The master of the Minnesota state grange is a woman.

tion and remunerative. Miss Cutter, of Massachusetts, has made a pecuniary success of the business of raising ornamental trees and shrubs, and her small fruit department has provided her not only with interesting study, but rewarded her financially. Mrs. Margaret Deland, the well-known writer, is an enthusiast on the subject of window gardening as a profitable and pleasant occupation for women, and her own jonquils are far famed.

In England there is noticed a movement towards encouraging women to take part in certain lines of outdoor work, especially gardening. Lady Warwick has established a guild of girl gardeners, called Daughters of Ceres, and a year ago put 40 young women in charge of the grounds of Studley castle. Recently a garden party was held at the castle to show what had been accomplished, and the visitors could give naught but the heartiest praise to the excellent results obtained by the new set of workers.

KATHERINE POPE.

CINCINNATI MEMORIAL HALL

To Be Erected Under Direction of the Soldiers and Sailors of Ohio.

Cincinnati.—The accompanying illustration is a likeness of the future home of the relics and mementoes of valor of those who have borne arms in defense of their country.

It is the accepted design of the edifice which is to be known as Memorial hall.

It will be built under the supervision of the building committee of the Hamilton County Memorial association, of which Capt. E. R. Monford is chairman.

The new building will be located on the northwest corner of Elm and Grant streets.

(To Be Erected at Cincinnati by Ohio's Soldiers and Sailors.)

It will run from Grant street to the entrance of the Odeon, having a frontage of 90.6 feet in Elm street, with a depth along Grant street of 100 feet.

The material to be used in the construction is dressed freestone. The design is classic.

It will be two stories high on the outside, but the interior will have four floors.

The exterior will be decorated with suitable inscriptions and statuary pertaining to the defenders of the country.

The interior will be divided into rooms for the display and exhibition of the relics of warfare. There will be a library and assembly halls and other apartments for the accommodation of the members.

The cost will be about $175,000. The money was secured from the state under an act which allowed the soldiers and sailors of Ohio to erect a building where the memory of the heroes of other days may be perpetuated.

ENGLISH BOY CHAUFFEUR.

He Is But Five Years Old and Runs the Smallest Automobile in the World.

London. — The smallest fully-equipped patrol motor car in the world is owned by the youngest of motorists, George Du Cros, who is only five years old. He generally rides with his baby sister, for such is the confidence of his parents in his control of his machine that they do not fear to trust him with such precious freight when he goes a-motoring. He is really a skilled chauffeur, as was shown by his participation in the "bending" contest recently at Hastings against such masters of the art as S. F. Edge and Jarrot. He had successfully steered his tiny car through a medley of obstacles and stood a fair chance of winning, when his father, bent on encouraging him, shouted out: "Well done, George!" This distracted the little fellow's attention, causing him to look around, and a moment later he knocked down a pole and had to retire from the contest. But later his father atoned for his unfortunate interference by carrying off the first prize himself. And Master George was consoled by winning the second prize in the "appearance" competition. The car, which is appropriately named Baby, is only four feet six inches long and 18 inches wide and is fitted with 20-inch wheels. It is of two and one-half horse power and its speed is from four to 15 miles an hour.

Women Colonels in German Army.

The latest addition to the woman colonels of the German army is the grand duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, to whom Emperor William has just forwarded an autograph letter conferring upon her the honorary command of the regiment of dragoons stationed at Parchim. The new colonel is 22 years of age, and is said to be one of the handsomest women in Europe. The bold dragoons of Mecklenburg are not the only regiment in the kaiser's service commanded by a lady colonel. The empress of Germany herself is an honorary commander of the Corps of Guards. The queen of Holland is also a German colonel, and so are the queens of Italy, Saxony and Wurtemberg.

Curious Fish.

The oldest inhabitants of the New York aquarium are the striped bass, which have been there for ten years, having been placed in one of the floor pools before the building was opened to the public. In May, 1894, 55 specimens, weighing from a quarter of a pound to four pounds, were secured, 37 of which have survived. Most of those that were lost died in the first year, and in the last four years not one has died.

The Silence of Butterflies.

After all, the chief charm of this race of winged flowers does not lie in their varied and brilliant beauty, nor yet in their wonderful series of transformations, in their long and sordid caterpillar life, their long slumber in the chrysalis or the very brief period which comprises their beauty, their lovemaking, their parentage and their death. Nor does it lie in the fact that we do not yet certainly know whether they have in the caterpillar shape the faculty of sight or not, and do not even know the precise use of their most conspicuous organ in maturity, the antennae. Nor does it consist in this—that they of all created things have furnished man with the symbol of his own immortality. It rather lies in the fact that, with all their varied life and activity, they represent an absolutely silent world. * * * All the vast array of modern knowledge has found no butterfly which murmurs with an audible voice and only a very few species which can even audibly click or rustle with their wings.—T. W. Higginson in Atlantic.

The Search For Success.

This is my advice to young men seeking for success: Fix your eye on England, fix it on Alaska, fix it on the moon, collect beetles, desire tram tickets, demand lost boot laces, die for dead cats—do any of these things and you may have your will. But do not fix your dreams upon success, for the bones of those dreamers are wrecks along the shore.—G. K. Chesterton in London News.

Usually.

It is usually the young woman who wouldn't have the best man in the world who snaps at the first offer, and the man who is the most cynical about matrimony is pretty sure to propose to the first woman who gives him an opportunity.—Boston Transcript.

The Hindoo Idea of Wit.

An English lady reformer of uncertain age who visited India to deliver a lecture told the audience that she would be happy to answer any question, upon which a fat baboo came to the front with "How old are you?" "Oh, no," she replied; "I don't mean questions of that sort; only ones connected with the subject of the lecture." "Are you forty?" continued the baboo, [illegible] blushed. "No, I won't answer such a question," was the reply. "Are you fifty?" continued her tormentor. "Oh, no; I told you I won't answer such questions." "Are you sixty?" "Oh, no, no, no; I'm not sixty," the lady responded precipitately.

A shikarri out partridge shooting was seen in fits of laughter, slapping his thighs in the ecstasy of his glee. On inquiring the cause of his hilarity, he hurriedly said: "Hush, sahib! That cooly," indicating one of the beaters, "has just been bitten by a green snake, but he thinks it is only a thorn! Don't tell him or he'll be frightened and stop beating."—From General Gerard's "Leaves From the Diary of a Soldier and Sportsman."

The Jade Jokai Loved.

Of one phase of his life Jokai, the Hungarian novelist, wrote in disgust: "Well, confess it I must. I have a sweetheart, for whose sake I have been faithless not only to my wife, but to my muse also—a sweetheart who has appropriated my best ideas and whose slave I was and still am. Often have I wasted half my fortune upon her and rushed blindly into misfortune to please her. For her sake I have patiently endured insult, ridicule and reprobation; for her sake I have staked life and liberty. Now, if she had been a pretty young damsel there might have been some excuse for me, but she was a nasty, old, painted figurehead of a beldame, a flirting, faithless, fickle, foul mouthed, scandalmongering old liar, whom the whole world courts, who makes fools of all her wooers and changes her lovers as often as she changes her dress. Her name is Politics, and may the plague take her!"

Customs of the Kaffirs.

The author of a book on the Kaffirs of South Africa says: "The women are, on the whole, in favor of polygamy. Sometimes a woman who has a dozen other 'sisters,' as they call fellow wives, will go to a woman who is the solitary wife of a man and ask her if she does not feel lonely. No one can visit a large kraal—such, for example, as the king's kraal in Swaziland—where there are hundreds of huts, and not feel that there is a certain charm in the social life of the place. It is a sort of college life, and frequently my thoughts have reverted to my old varsity days, and it has struck me that if one could imagine a set of men living in the old court of Trinity surrounded by wives and children, with a social circle in which every one was related to every one else, one might get some idea of the sheer joy of life amid 1,000 relations."

Swallows and Microbes.

Swallows and other migratory birds invariably shun those places which are in the slightest degree infected by noxious microbes. Thus they are never to be found in districts where cholera, yellow fever, the plague and other epidemic diseases prevail. The districts which they select as their temporary homes are in all respects the most healthy that can be found. It is evident from this that persons who are afraid of catching cholera or other infectious diseases ought not to live in places which are shunned by these birds.

A Useless Verdict.

"Yes," said the old traveler, "I was on a jury in California once. It was a murder trial. I didn't want the fellow hanged and so stuck out against the other eleven for nine days, locked up in the jury room, when they gave in, and we brought in a verdict of 'Not guilty,' and then I was ready to stab myself with spite."

"What about?"

"'Cause the mob had hanged the prisoner on the very first day we were locked up."

Enjoy What You Can.

To be soured by poverty or to be hardened by it is a mistake—an error of thought. Instead of enjoying our life we are cramping ourselves. It is as if we were set at a feast and sulkily refused to enjoy a few dishes because we could not reach everything on the table and make ourselves sick, like foolish children that we are.—Bliss Carman.

A Telling Stroke.

The hare easily caught up with the tortoise. "Well, old man, you're not much of a runner," he sneered.

"No," admitted the tortoise, "I'm not. I think I'll try for the crew. You see, I'm quite at home in the shell."—Princeton Tiger.

A Distinction.

"Can a man patent a scientific discovery?" asked the commercial person.

"It isn't usually done," answered the scientist. "But some of them ought to be coyprighted as literary productions."—Washington Star.

No Trifling Detail.

Miss Truesoe—Am I to understand, papa, that everything is settled in regard to my wedding? Mr. Truesoe—Yes, my dear, everything—but the bills!—Chicago Journal.

Explained.

Piker—Why did they call the mediaeval period the "dark ages?" Professor—Because it was knight time.—Cornell Widow.

When a real meek man gets good and mad, he comes mighty near having fits.—Atchison Globe.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. At all druggists. 49-ly.

Too many things we wait for are not worth the delay.

Thousands Cured.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of Piles. "I bought a box DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on the recommendation of our druggists," so writes C. H. LaCroix, of Zavalla, Tex., "and used it for a stubborn case of Piles, It cured me permanently." Sold by R. C. Dodson.

We are judged not by the poetry we applaud but by the plain prose we apply.

Mothers Praise It.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster, of Chester, Mich., says; "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and cannot praise it to highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

We all hold the doctrine of total depravity—as applied to our neighbors.

A Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer, unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured, It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles 25c, at L. Taggart's Drug Store.

We seldom realize the value of money until we try to borrow some.

Don't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. Kings New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c, at L. Taggart's Drug Store.

A field of ice looks tropical compared to a face with a cast iron smile.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the wort cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. The great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by L. Taggart Druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

The higher the price of meat the more food we have for reflection.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter wss entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility. This is what B. F. Bass of Fremont. N. C., writes. Only 50c, at L. Taggart, Druggist.

Sunshine is a great blessing, yet it often forces people to the shade.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and dispondency. They cannot, as a rule, get ride of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75. At all druggists. 48-ly.

Relief at Once.

Immediate relief from backache pain in the side, groin or hips is experienced by taking a large dose of Thompson's Barosma or Kidney and Liver Cure. A continuation of its use will make a positive cure. Thompson's Barosma does not contain opiates and a large reward is offered for any injurious drug found in its composition. It is purely vegetable and a remedy adopted to all ages. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

When there is nothing to fight for we can hope for universal peace.

A Great Bridge.

For over a month I had been troubled with a lame back and neck. The pain was so severe that I could not sleep. I bought one bottle of Thompson's Barosme or Kidney Cure and before the bottle was used up I was well as ever and wish to speak a good word for Barosma the "Bridge that carried me safely over." E. S. Gray, Shamburg, Pa. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

The creed without bones of difficulty is usually of the jellyfish order.

Discovery in Medicine.

Medical science has been striving to discover remedies that instead of relieving temporarily will make permanent cures. The great claim for that splendid remedy Thompson's Barosma or Backache, Kidney and Liver Cure is that it makes a decided and lasting cure. This remedy has positively made wonderful cures in Bright's disease, sciatic rheumatism, kidney and liver diseases, lumbago and female weakness. Thompson's Barosma is purely vegetable and pleasant to take. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

Dreaming about heaven is a sin when it hinders work on earth.

A Remarkable Discovery.

One of the greatest discoveries judging from the permanent cures made, is San-Cura Ointment, It relieves at once that itching, burning pain caused by Erysipelas, Tetter, Eczema, and Salt Rheum, San-Cura Ointment also cures Old Sores, Pimples, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Corns, Itching Piles and Insect Bites. It draws out all poison leaving a sound healthy skin. Aids in preventing scars. Druggists, 25c and 50c. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

The Almighty puts long tails on horses and man cuts them off.

A Wonderful Saving.

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church.

They used only 32 gallons of the Longman & Martinez Paint with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.

Saved over eighty ($80.00) dollars in paint, and got a big donation besides.

EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M., and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith.

Why You Should Visit the World's Fair.

The principle reason why a visit should be made to this greatest of Expositions is on account of its educational value. A visit to the World's Fair is in itself a trip around the world, for fifty cents, the price of admission. The president of one of our greatest universities has said "To the bright student the Exposition is worth a thousand college lectures." The opportunity of a life-time is afforded in which to acquire, by a few days' sojourn at the Fair, an education which could not otherwise be received. The World's Fair Grounds cover over 1200 acres, being more than twice as large as those of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

Only a few weeks remain in which to take advantage of this great opportunity. Every day from now until the close of the Fair is a "special" day. The Wabash is selling daily Excursion tickets to the Fair at greatly reduced rates: $12.00 St. Louis and return, on sale daily, except Fridays and Saturdays. Tickets good in Palace Reclining Chair Cars, $15.00, St. Louis and return. Tickets on sale daily, and good on either Palace Reclining Chair Cars or Pullman Sleepers. The Wabash operates through trains from Pittsburg to the World's Fair Main Entrance, all trains leaving the magnificent new passenger station, corner of Liberty avenue and Ferry street, at 2:00 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily, city time.

Detailed information regarding rates and train service, to St. Louis, as well as to many Homeseekers' points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, cheerfully furnished at Wabash City Ticket Office, 320 Fifth avenue, Depot Ticket Office, Wabash Station. 35-4t

JOS. L. WHEELER.

Statement by the President.

Washington, Nov. 9. — President Roosevelt after the election returns clearly indicated the result issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served 3½ years and this 3½ years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Mrs. Lenna Feltwell leaves to-day for Cross Forks to join her husband who is employed at that place.

Dr. Colcord came over from First Fork on Tuesday evening to hear the election news. The Dr. enjoyed the pleasant quarters of Business Men's Club.

Miss Grace Lloyd, who is attending Dickinson Seminary, arrived home Friday evening to spend Sunday, and as election occurred Tuesday she decided to remain long enough to hear the results. Of course Miss Grace didn't vote—she isn't old enough, and that is not the only reason either. The climate agrees admirably with her, and after consulting a physician her general health is as good as the best.

Goosebone Weather Prophet Elias Hartz, of Berks county, has made his first prediction for the season, in which he fortells a severe winter, with great snow storms and big ice crops. "The bone," he says, "is dark all the way through," and the winter of 1904-05 will be severe It will start in early in November, and we may expect very cold weather."

Timelliness, freshness, interest are the keynotes of the November Woman's Home Companion. Merely to enumerate is to show the wealth of good things. "Eection Night in a Great news paper Office." "The Rise and Fall of Sully, King of Cotton." "A Visit to Sod-House Land." "Saint Patrick's Purgatory, Old Ireland's Strangest Shrine." "The Strike and the Housewife." "How Wild Animals Prepare for Winter" are all of unusual interest. The fiction is of high excellence—a humorous story. "The Rising Up of Ezzie Wygelia," by Ella Higginson; "The King of Diamonds," by Louis Tracy; "The Girl and the Game," by Ralph Henry Barbour. The articles to interest the housewife are many—"An Election Day Dinner," "A page of Prize Thanksgiving Dinners," "How to Bring Up the Children." "Some Famous Old Virginia Dishes," and four pages of timely fashions. Published by The Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

Editor Versus Lawyer.

A lawyer in a courtroom may call a man a liar, scoundrel, villain or thief, and no one makes a complaint when court has adjourned. If a newspaper prints such reflections on a man's character there is a libel suit or a dead editor. And this is owing to the fact that people believe what an editor says; what a lawyer says cuts no figure.—Routt County (Colo.) Courier.

The Place For a Pupil.

Mothers and Daughters

Every woman who has a grown daughter knows well the worry and anxiety which always comes at that period of life when girlhood merges into womanhood. Upon a girl's condition at this time depends her future health, strength and happiness. Too much care can not be taken to see that she passes through this period safely.

AUNT DINAH'S OLD VIRGINIA

Herb Tea

is of the greatest assistance to nature in bringing about the change which takes place, without disarranging the natural functions of the system. It is a strengthening tonic. It will keep the roses in a girl's cheeks and prevent that tendency to decline which so often endangers her life at this critical point in development.

This Herb Tea is likewise of corresponding value and assistance to matrons and mothers at the end of this period. Its use will at this time prevent endless pain and worry. A woman will enter the evening of life with scarcely the knowledge that the change has occurred. Many are the thankful women who know the value of Aunt Dinah's Old Virginia Herb Tea and are grateful for the benefits derived from its use.

THE RICHES OF LOVE.

Talk about Poverty—nothin' it seems:
Rich am I ever, with Love and the dreams!
Who with my wealth in the world can compare—
Rich in the glory of Jenny's gold hair!
Beautiful, down-streaming hair that I hold
In the hands of me—kissing and loving its gold!

Talk about Poverty!—bright the sun streams!
Take the world's riches, and give me Love's dreams!
Dreams in the dark skies, and dreams in the fair,
The light—brave splendor of Jenny's gold hair!
Earth hath its millions—but nothin' like this:
The beautiful hair whose gold ringlets I kiss!

There is no Poverty!—Give me, dear God,
Not the gold harvests that color the sod;
Not the world's breath, over far oceans blown—
But the red lips of Jenny, that lean to my own!
And even in death just a joy, like to this:
Her gold hair to shadow me—sweet with Love's kiss!

Le Ruban Rouge

By F. H. LANCASTER

(Copyright, 1901, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

ALORS QUOI, qu'est-ce qui vous voulez? Victorine had been away to school, now she was coming home. Monsieur, her father, had hitched the fat horse to the high wagon and gone to the ferry to meet her; madam, her mother, had baked the cake; petit soeur had swept the yard; petit frere had caught a gopher for the gumbo. Alors! and yet one other had done his part toward the welcoming. Michell, he had bought the red ribbon—yards of it—so bright, so rich, so shiney. Le ruban rouge! He spread it upon the bed that it might be ever before his eyes while he dressed—brilliant as a badge of courage: "Ders t'ree yard, yas. She's two inch wide." Michell's fingers trembled as he knotted his tie—blue and green with big yellow spots. Si Jolie, but he had foreborne to wear it until she came home.

So it was with the new straw hat and the tan shoes—even the natty linen suit and russet leather belt had been saved against her return. His mother and sister looked on in admiration as he stood tightening his saddle girths. A red handkerchief peeped from one pocket, a white one from another. None of them knew what it was that made his breast pocket bulge so.

"He looks nice," said the mother, softly.

"Yas," replied the oldest sister, "I get das shirt just stiff enough. La maitresse d'ecole say one spoonful to one cup. I write das down, me." She spoke with pardonable pride. They waved their hands to Michell—"Bon jour, bon jour." He drew up the reins; one brand new tan described an arc over the mare's back, he sat erect and waved his hat—"Bon jour ma mere; bon jour, mes soeurs." The little bay sprang at once into the gait at which he always rode her. A steady lope, easy and swift, up hill and down, over dry roads and wet, and as she loped her master's heart loped with her.

Looking after him, such a picture of eager young manhood he made—madam's heart misgave her. "I wish to know," she said half to herself, "I wish to know, me eef Victorine is change moch."

Michell's heart was troubled with no misgiving. Le ruban rouge lay warm to it, and glad anticipation thrilled him through and through. What an afternoon it was and how the birds sang in the bushes—"Torine, 'Torine." He bared his head to an old charcoal burner, grime to the roots of his white hair and through it; he shouted a hearty greeting to a crowd of young fellows going to a chopping—their horses trotting four abreast, the axes across their shoulders glittering in the sun; they gave back the greeting heartily. They were thinking of annisett, and dancing, and coffee, and girls, he—why what could he think of with a heart beating inside of him like that. He heard the creak of his saddle, the jingle of the bits and the muffled toc, toc of the little mare's hoofs on the road. And all he heard ran in to a refrain of one dear name.

Ah, there she was on the gallerie—all in white and a rose—a white rose—in her hair. "Des diffent," he muttered, "she use to like the red rose best." His hand shook so he could scarce fasten the little mare's bridle to the picket, half way up the walk he raised his hat, but he strode up the steps slowly. Madam arose, Victorine arose, Michell bowed over madam's hand. "I hope, me das I see you well, madam," he said courteously, though his voice trembled. Yes, madam was very well. She thanked him. And how was madam, his mother? He thanked her. Madam, his mother, was in good health—le bon sante. And at last he might turn to Victorine, who stood demurely waiting. The same formal greeting and the state of his sisters' health—only this time the hand-clasp was a bit tighter. He could not help that. It was so good to feel those supple fingers within his palm once more. Victorine was very well. "And you," she asked, deliciously. Madam covered his stammered reply with a shrill order to petit frere. Bidding him hurry from the kitchen with a chair for Michell: "Porte la chaise, cher, porte la chaise." The chair came. They all took seats. Petit frere offered his hand shyly to Michell. Victorine spoke kindly:

"Francois caught a big gopher yesterday. Did you know?"

"No; I didn't hear 'bout das," said Micaell, and to the boy, "Where you catch heem?"

"Down yohdah," replied the lad, pride of his catch lost in admiration of the yellow spotted tie.

"Bon jour, Michell. Comme ca va?" It was monsieur. He rung the young man's hand, and to Francois, "Porte la chaise, cher. Porte la chaise. Keep yo seat, keep yo seat! Well, I see your pa yesterday. He teel me he goin' turpentine his land. Yas?"

"Yas, das what he say."

"Well, I don' know 'bout das, me." They talked turpentine, pro and con. Madam bustled to the kitchen and returned presently with the coffee-pot, followed by petit soeur with cups and sugar. Each and all drank coffee. Madam arose, she looked hard at monsieur. But monsieur talked on—a neighbor's disaster being too tempting to forego: "An, I hear, me, he's goin' burn coal now das storm blow down mos' his trees."

"Yas, I meet a lot of young fellow goin' to his chopping little while ago."

"Why didn' you go?" Murmured Victorine, asserting her rights. Michell turned. "I was coming here," he said, simply. And at last monsieur saw madam's signal.

"Excuse moi," he said, hastily, "I go feed my horse." It was indeed high feeding time for the dusk was deepening. Michell looked after him gratefully. "Votre pere looks well, heem," he said to Victorine.

"Yas."

"You glad to get home?"

"Yas, I'm right glad, me."

With a rush of glad courage he slipped from his chair to the one left vacant by little sister. "I'm glad me. Sim like you been gone long time, long time, yas. Sim more like six years den six mont."

'Torine laughed gaily. Was M. Michell forgetting how to count? It was four mont' she had been gone. But Michell's unsteady fingers were laying a parcal in her lap, his unsteady voice was beseeching—"You tink mebbe you wear dis sometime?"

'Torine undid the wrappings deftly—oh, there was plenty of light to see how red it was and that it was cotton satin. She paused. Michell expecting a little cry of delight did not understand. How was he to know that within four short months culture had set its claw in the girl's heart, harpy-like, defiling for her all the bright, cheap pleasures of life?

"You don' like heem?" he faltered. "You won't wear heem?"

"I can' wear red, me—"

"Den geeve him here. I go burn heem op—"

"No, no; you shan'. Das mine, you geeve heem me." And she thrust the unlucky ruban rouge deep into her skirt pocket. Michell was molified. "I bring you some blue next time."

Consternation seized Victorine. Only too clearly she foresaw what he would bring. Three inches wide and half cotton.

"Mon ami," she said, softly, "I tell you what piece of blue ribbon I want you to get for me."

"An' das?" he asked, eagerly.

"You know la maitresse de'ecole going give a piece of blue ribbon to whoever stand up last next Friday."

"I'll get heem for you," Michell promised rashly, eagerly. It was a contest in arithmetic—whoever stood up through the first 12 tables in multiplication. Michell had intended to absent himself, being a bit shaky on the nine table; but now he promised himself to study that table every night. That 'Torine was only seizing upon a chance to substitute the teacher's taste for his, did not occur to him. He thought that she wanted him to win an honor for her and the thought fired his blood—and his energy for study.

Friday evening, and a little log school house packed to bursting. Two boys and a girl facing each other in the midst of the crowd. All that the eight table had left standing.

"Nine times one?" began the teacher, hoarse but patient. Michell sang out the answer. "If I get through this table, me. I'm all right." He reflected and seemed to see the blue ribbon fluttering at 'Torine's throat. "Nine times seven?" The girl on his side sank her head, turned and sat down. "Sixty-three," said Michell, but his voice trembled, his hands grew suddenly cold, his head hot. Stage fright seized him. Asked just then he could not have told his name and in the midst of his terror came the teacher's voice. "Nine times nine?" His mind a blank he yet heard the whisper behind him — "Eighty-one.' The teacher coughed to give him time, the whisper came again insistently. The sweat sprang out on his forehead and wrists. In its agony the temptation lasted a lifetime. Then he clenched his hands, shook his head and blundered out of ranks. Blind with mortification he sank upon the bench reserved for defeated candidates. He had but one thing left to pray for and he prayed for that as he had never prayed before. That the other boy would miss. He prayed in vain. The other boy stood up to the end—and the ribbon, a long, narrow streamer of delicate blue. Michell started up and forced a way through the crowd. He would not sit there and see the grinning fool go give it to 'Torine. If he had won, 'Torine was to have ridden home with him in his new sulky, but now—

"We goin' now?" querried a low, sweet voice. He stopped and started stupidly. Crossing her breast like a baidric, encircling her waist and streaming at her side in flowing end, she had it on, the whole three yards of it.

"'Torine," he stammered.

"Michell," she mimicked, deliciously. Then with mock severity. "What for you didn' say 81 when I tell it you? You wouldn' cheat to get me de blue ribbon. I have to go back on my word and wear la ruban rouge." Culture, that puts a fine edge on sense of rectitude, may have had something to do with it, native kindness of heart more, and love for him most of all. Michell was too wise to reason. They were around behind the school house—out of sight of the crowd—where the mare was tied, so he took the dear girl in his arms and kissed her. "Alors quoi, qu'est-ce que vous voulez?"

A GREAT GENERAL.

KUROPATKIN THE BRAINIEST SOLDIER IN RUSSIAN army.

Has Amply Demonstrated His Ability by His Handling of a Difficult Situation in the Campaign in Manchuria.

London.—In Gen. Kuropatkin the Russians possess a general of the highest and rarest order of military genius. In the great battle round Liaoyang, and in the operations of the two months preceding it, he showed qualities of generalship which, when they are properly understood, will, we believe, call forth universal admiration. Consider what the task before Gen. Kuropatkin was when he took up his command. In the first place, he did not come on the scene till the war was well begun, and so the conditions of action had been dictated for him.

The disposition of the forces, naval and military, and all the arrangements for supply, had been made, not by him or under his orders, but by the viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, who, whatever else he may be, is not a strategist of the first class. Gen. Kuropatkin found himself, that is, called on to carry out "another man's job," and a job which had been ill begun and worse planned. Though it may be too much to say that all was confusion and indecision at the front, it is certainly not too much to say that his first business when he arrived in Manchuria was to rearrange the disposition of his forces, to make provision for their safety and efficient supply, and to hold in check an enemy whom he was unable to attack owing to that enemy's military superiority. He had, in fact, to stand on the defensive—always the most difficult operation in war. And, difficult as defensive warfare always is, Kuropatkin chose its most arduous form. He did not, that is, retreat at once, gathering his forces while the operation could still be unopposed, to some strong position, but fell back gradually, disputing the ground as he went. For example, his first act was to send a force south, which was apparently intended to try to relieve Port Arthur, but which was far more probably meant to delay and hamper the Japanese advance, and so prolong as far as possible the initial stages of the war. It may be that he was ordered by the czar to undertake the impossible task of relieving Port Arthur; but if he did receive that order, he used it so skillfully that instead of producing a disaster, as a real attempt at relief would have done, it enabled him to gain time for preparing a defensive position of immense strength at Liaoyang.

GEN. KUROPATKIN.
(He Has Displayed Rare Strategetical Ability in Manchurian Campaign.)

When the tide of Japanese advance swept over this first bulwark, and his troops were driven out of Newchwang, the military situation had, from his point of view, distinctly improved. It is true that he was unable to hold the lines around Liaoyang as Wellington held the lines at Torres Vedras; but before he evacuated his prepared positon he forced the Japanese to dash themselves against it in a 12 days' action, which inflicted, at any rate, as great a loss on the assailants as on the defenders.

It was, however, in his retreat from Liaoyang, even more than in the battles around it, that Gen. Kuropatkin showed his military genius. He managed to withdraw his army in the face of the enemy's fierce assaults, and of their desperate attempts to turn his flanks, and also in spite of a difficult country, and of roads deep in mud. And this he did without any loss in guns or prisoners that is worth considering. It is officially stated by the Japanese that only 13 prisoners were taken. If this is indeed the full tale, it is without parallel in the history of war. An army retreating under attack, even when its morale is undisturbed, almost expects to lose prisoners, owing to the fact that detached bodies have necessarily to be left behind to delay the enemy. The general in retreat usually counts upon having pieces snipped off the "fringes" of his force. That Kuropatkin suffered no such loss is a sign of the masterly way in which the retreat was conducted.

Children Disguised in Dirt.

Susan B. Anthony, on her return from Europe, talked in an engaging way about the things she had seen over there. Of a certain slum she said: "The children in this slum are dirty, very dirty. I hardly know how I may make clear to you the superlative degree of dirtiness that marks them. I was told, for one thing, that a mother in this slum often goes out on the street and washes half a dozen children's faces before she is able to find her own child."

MRS. WEBER TELLS HOW SHE WAS HELPED WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

She Let Her Trouble Become Chronic Because She Hesitated to Consult Her Physician—Particulars of a Remarkable Case.

The natural reluctance which every woman feels to consult a physician regarding troubles peculiar to her sex caused Mrs. C. Weber, of No. 7685 South Front street, Columbus, Ohio, to let her illness run on until it became chronic, and even the excellent doctor whom she employed could give her no relief that was permanent. She gives the following details of an interesting case:

"I felt the trouble a long time before I went to our doctor, perhaps a year or more. When I did consult him he told me I had female trouble. I felt sharp pains through my stomach and could not walk across the room without suffering agonies which I cannot describe. My head ached so that it fairly thumped and at times it seemed that I would go crazy. My stomach became so weak that it would retain only the lightest food. Week after week I took the doctor's medicine, but I continued to feel worse and worse. On several occasions I was confined to my bed for a week at a time. My weight decreased to 102 pounds and I seemed a confirmed invalid.

"One day I read of a case similar to mine that had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and, although I did not have much confidence, I began taking the pills, having already discontinued my doctor's treatment. While I was taking the second box I began to feel a little better and the improvement continued until I was cured. In a few months I had recovered my health and strength and weighed 132 pounds. I owe everything to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to women as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing. These pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had from all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

FRIGHT RESTORES SPEECH.

Flames in Room of Dumb and Paralyzed Man so Scare Him That He Begins to Talk.

Thomas Herring, a dumb and paralyzed old man living with his son-in-law, E. Moss, in London, was so overcome with fright when a fire broke out in his bedroom recently that he suddenly began to speak.

Herring, who is 71 years old, was a robust man, and up to a short time ago was enjoying good health, even working at a small blacksmith's forge. One day he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which also left him speechless.

The other evening two men rushed in shouting that one of the upper rooms was on fire. Running up stairs to the chamber of his father-in-law Moss saw that the window curtains were ablaze and the woodwork was alight. The wind had blown open the window and this had knocked over a lamp, causing the fire.

The paralyzed man lay on the bed helpless, unable to stir hand or foot or raise a cry of alarm. The agonized look on his face showed, however, that he realized the terrible nature of his position. The flames were smothered before they had made much progress, and the patient escaped unhurt.

Shortly after the family were surprised to hear the voice of the paralyzed father. He was able to speak distinctly a few words and his speech was coherent. The next days his powers of speech were still further restored and he regained the complete use of his voice and was able easily to converse with the family.

The restoration of the lost faculty was evidently the outcome of the shock which his system experienced on the outbreak of the fire.

Although the paralysis of the limbs remains, Mr. Herring's health has improved so much that he has been removed from the house to a hospital, where it is the opinion that he may live a long time.

What the Baby Needed.

"I suffered from nervousness and headache until one day about a year ago it suddenly occurred to me what a great coffee drinker I was and I thought may be this might have something to do with my trouble, so I shifted to tea for awhile but was not better, if anything worse.

"At that time I had a baby four months old that we had to feed on the bottle, until an old lady friend told me to try Postum Food Coffee. Three months ago I commenced using Postum, leaving off the tea and coffee, and not only have my headaches and nervous troubles entirely disappeared but since then I have been giving plenty of nurse for my baby and have a large, healthy child now.

"I have no desire to drink anything but Postum and know it has benefited my children, and I hope all who have children will try Postum and find out for themselves what a really wonderful food drink it is." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Both tea and coffee contain quantities of a poisonous drug called Caffeine that directly affects the heart, kidneys, stomach and nerves. Postum is made from cereals only, scientifically blended to get the coffee flavor. Ten days trial of Postum in place of tea or coffee will show a health secret worth more than a gold mine. There's a reason.

A NONSAGGING GATE.

How It May Be Constructed So as to Overcome Old-Time Difficulties.

I have had much trouble with sagging gates before I built several like the one shown in the cut. If the posts are well set, there is little danger of the gate sagging. In the tops of the short and long posts shown at a and b holes are bored to receive the hinges. In the post may be fitted iron sockets, or in lieu of that fill hole with linseed oil and allow wood to soak it up thoroughly as a preventive against weather and wear.

The hinges shown at a and b are not found upon an ordinary gate, but can be made by any blacksmith. By use of the lever, c, and the latch at d, connected by wires shown, the latch may be raised without going to the end of gate.

On some of these gates, writes D. R. Brown, in Farm and Home, I have placed a small wheel as shown at c. If not firmly set into the gate, the wheel should be mounted on a swivel. If a board is used as a truck for these wheels to ravel on, much annoyance is avoided in muddy weather.

RACK FOR CORN HUSKING.

Simple Contrivance Which Will Lighten the Labors in the Field.

Corn husking rack, such as shown in the picture, is easily built of a few sticks. It can be made of any size desired, but a convenient one is 18 inches high, three feet wide and six feet long, says the Orange Judd Farmer. The common method of using it is to tip it over so that the top and bottom rest against one side of the shock, which is then pulled over onto the rack. The shock is unbound and is then ready for one or two huskers.

SUGGESTIVE PARAGRAPHS.

Is your barnyard graveled, ditched and tiled?

Marketing the products in the best possible condition is where the profits are made.

A furrow passed through a wet place in the wheat field will often save an acre of wheat.

In planting out an orchard this fall do not plant out more than can be manured and cared for.

Farm life may be made a burden or a pleasure, according to the management of the home, the farm and the work.

Clean up the farm, and its value will be increased, and when it is cleaned and cleared it will cultivate more easily and cheaply.

The scrapings from the barnyard drawn out and spread on the meadow before cold weather will help to protect the grass roots and bring a better crop next season.—Farm and Home.

Remember this: Hay in a small stack will have a much larger part ruined by rain and weather than that in a large one. So if you can possibly make room in the hay mow, put in the one or more small stacks left over.—Coleman's Rural World.

A Big Plum.

Dominion Fruit Inspector Wartman, says the Montreal Star, while inspecting California fruit, discovered a Kelsey Japanese plum which measured 8½ inches in circumference, and weighed six ounces. It was green in color, and shaped much like a pear, the stem being the larger. The fruit was sound throughout, very luscious, and destitute of coarseness in texture and flavor usually present in very large specimens of fruit. The pit was no larger than that of an ordinary Lombard or Damson plum grown in Canada. While this specimen was the largest noticed in 15 cases of this variety, there were many others of extraordinary size. Out of the 15 cases there was not a single inferior or damaged specimen, although the fruit must have been at least ten days picked before reaching Montreal, so carefully do California growers pick, pack and ship their fruit.

Saving Poultry Manure.

Poultry manure is very rich in all the fertilizing elements, but especially so in nitrogen, owing to the fact that the urinary secretions, which contain large amounts of nitrogen as well as potash in readily available form, are voided with the solid excrement. It quickly loses nitrogen, however, by fermenation, if not properly mixed with absorbents or preservatives. In no case should alkaline substances like lime, wood ashes, etc., be mixed with poultry manure.—Farmers' Bulletin.

HIS NAME IN GOOD BOOK.

Indiana Man Had Been Heard Of Even in the Wilds of Colorado.

"Because my name is Lord, I frequently have not a few funny experiences," said J. G. Lord, of Muncie, Ind., according to the Louisville Herald. "One of the most amusing incidents I ever had by reason of my name happened while I was driving from town to town in Colorado. While on the road one day, driving very slowly, for I had plenty of time, I chanced to notice by the roadside a young fellow about 16 years old, dressed in as ragged a fashion as anyone you could ever conceive of. He had on a pair of his father's worn-out trousers, which were cut off at the bottom, and which extended far up on his body, almost to his shoulders. More as a matter of personal amusement than for any other reason, I asked him how far it was to the next town.

"'Bout six miles, I reckon,' he replied.

"I reined up my horse.

"'Do you have any fun out here?' I asked.

"'Yep; heap.'

"'What is your name?' I asked him.

"'Willie,' he replied; 'Willie Hawks.'

"I started to drive on, but he called after me, asking me to stop.

"'Say, mister,' he asked, 'and what mout your name be?'

"'Lord,' I answered; 'Mr. Lord.'

"And then he grinned. He grinned all the way to the armholes of his father's pants.

"'Why'd you smile?' I asked. 'Have you ever heard of me?'

"'Sure; I've heard pop read of yer in that good book; but I never saw yer afore.'

"And he continued to grin as I drove on."

Cured Her Rheumatism.

Deep Valley, Pa., Oct. 31 (Special).—There is deep interest in Green county over the cure of the little daughter of I. N. Whipkey of Rheumatism. She was a great sufferer for five or six years and nothing seemed to do her any good till she tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. She began to improve almost at once and now she is cured and can run and play as other children do. Mr. Whipkey says:

"I am indeed thankful for what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for my daughter; they saved her from being a cripple perhaps for life."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have proved that Rheumatism is one of the results of diseased Kidneys. Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. If the Kidneys are right there can be no Uric Acid in the blood, and consequently no Rheumatism. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys right.

Blot on California.

They were discussing the charms of the California climate.

"I never knew but two persons who could resist the wiles of that delightful land," one of the company said, "and they were a mother and daughter from the Hub. They came to Pasadena while we were there, and they stayed just two days. One of us chanced to express surprise at their brief sojourn, and the older woman explained:

"'It is beautiful here, of course. We realize that. But, after all, it is so far from Boston!'

"And they went that very day."—N. Y. Sun.

Tenth Season of the California Limited.

Ten years ago this fall the Santa Fe started its California Limited train on the initial run across the continent. Many improvements have been made in that busy decade. To-day's engines and coaches are much heavier than those of 1894. Millions of dollars have been spent on the track alone—some of it for oil-sprinkled (dustless) roadbed and oil-burning (smokeless) engines. The time is faster, too.

Daily service of the California Limited will be resumed Sunday, November 13, for the tenth season, superseding the present semi-weekly schedule. This is now an all-the-year-'round train, between Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco, running through Southwest land of enchantment. The time, Chicago to Los Angeles, is about 68 hours, which is fast speed for the 2,265 miles traversed, considering that several mountain ranges are crossed.

The Proper Name.

The Daughter—No, mother, dear, I could not marry Mr. Smith; he squints.

Do not believe Piso's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—J. F. Boyer, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

Once the world seemed large, but we were equal to it; now it seems small, but it is too much for us.—Puck.

The letters of Miss Merkley, whose picture is printed above, and Miss Claussen, prove beyond question that thousands of cases of inflammation of the ovaries and womb are annually cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gradual loss of strength and nerve force told me something was radically wrong with me. I had severe shooting pains throught the pelvic organs, cramps and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation. I strongly objected to this and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found that my judgment was correct, and that all the good things said about this medicine were true, and day by day I felt less pain and increased appetite. The ulceration soon healed, and the other complications disappeared and in eleven weeks I was once more strong and vigorous and perfectly well.

"My heartiest thanks are sent to you for the great good you have done me."—Sincerely yours, MISS MARGARET MERKLEY, 275 Third St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Claussen Saved from a Surgical Operation.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It seems to me that all the endorsements that I have read of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound do not express one-half of the virtue the great medicine really possesses. I know that it saved my life and I want to give the credit where it belongs. I suffered with ovarian trouble for five years, had three operations and spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines but this did not cure me after all.

"However, what doctors and medicines failed to do, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. Twenty bottles restored me to perfect health and I feel sure that had I known of its value before, and let the doctors alone, I would have been spared all the pain and expense that fruitless operations cost me. If the women who are suffering, and the doctors do not help them, will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they will not be disappointed with the results."—MISS CLARA M. THE "BIG STICK" KNOCKS OUT A HOME RUN AND CATCHER PARKER.

HOW THE STATES WENT

All the Northern States Solid For Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

M'KINLEY'S VOTE IS EXCEEDED.

Higgins Elected New York's Governor by More Than 100,000 Plurality. Pennsylvania's Republican Plurality Enormous—Maryland Close — West Virginia Republican.

New York, Nov. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt's plurality in this, his native state is second only to McKinley's in 1896. It exceeds McKinley's in 1900 by about 41,500. There were cast for him in New York state about 185,000 votes more than for Alton B. Parker.

Not only was his vote heavy in the country districts, where the Republican strongholds are, but in the Greater New York, traditionally Democratic he ran much closer to Judge Parker than had been expected, even by his own campaign managers. It had been estimated that he would come down to the Bronx with better than 140,000 plurality, but the figures showed this forecast would be exceeded by 25,000.

In the city, Parker's supporters had expressed hopes that their candidate would have from 140,000 to 160,000 more than Roosevelt, but in this they were disappointed by more than 100,000 votes. So overwhelming was the Republican vote that the result was known positively early in the evening.

The earliest counties to report made it clear that the Parker vote everywhere fell below Bryan's in practically all the up-state districts. In Greater New York Parker's plurality was from 12,000 to 14,000 larger than Bryan's, but in the state his total vote fell 16,000 short of Bryan's.

The small plurality for Parker in New York City caused great astonishment, the lowest preliminary ante-election estimates having figured that he would go into the Bronx with 100,000 or more. When the reports came in showing that he would lead Roosevelt by only 40,000, they were received with amazement.

The Parker plurality in the city was 35,000 less than was given Herrick, Dem., for governor. In Brooklyn the Republican managers thought Parker might lead Roosevelt, but reports give Roosevelt a plurality. His total vote fell 16,000 short of Bryan's.

There was a great surprise in the proportions of the vote for Higgins, Rep., for governor, he running far ahead of the Odell vote in the counties and winning by about 85,000. His plurality above the Bronx was probably 160,000, while Herrick's in Greater New York aggregated about 75,000. Herrick did not carry Albany, his home county, nor did Parker carry Ulster, in which he lives.

The result of the election was celebrated in New York in the demonstrative manner characteristic of this city. The large crowds in the streets, satisfied that Roosevelt had been elected, started in early with every noise-producing instrument procurable and soon Broadway and the other great thoro[illegible]es were so congested that tra[illegible]made almost impossible. of the 204 members of the house of representatives. This gives them control of both branches of the legislature by a large majority, insuring the election of Governor Pennypacker's appointee, Philander C. Knox, for United States senator, to succeed the late M. S. Quay.

John P. Elkins, Republican, is elected state supreme court judge by a majority almost as great as that cast for the Republican national ticket. The Republicans have also carried nearly all the judicial districts in which elections were held for common pleas judges and the five counties in which

For a presidential year the election in Philadelphia was very quiet. The Republican candidates swept everything before them. After the polls closed the Republican leaders claimed that the national, state and city candidates carried the city by pluralities of more than 125,000.

The only semblance of a fight was within the Democratic party where a faction calling themselves the "Independence party" opposed the regular Democrats on the city and legislative tickets.

The Republicans have carried all the counties and districts in which fusion was effected between the Democrats and citizen party and the counties in there were independent movement.

Estimates have been received from 37 of the 67 counties. These show Republican gains of 23,271 and Democratic gains of 2,325. The Republicans made gains in 29 counties and the Democrats in eight. Heavy gains were made in Luzerne, Lackawanna, Schuylkill and other counties in the anthracite coal region. The miners generally voted for Roosevelt, which materially helped the Republican candidates for congress and legislature in these counties.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Nov. 9.—Partially complete returns indicate that Roosevelt and Fairbanks have received a plurality of about 90,000. Robert M. La Follette, who headed the regular Republican ticket, will have a substantial majority for governor, although the vote cast by Stalwarts who opposed La Follette and supported the national Republican ticket is heavier than expected. The presidential electors on both Republican tickets were identical.

WYOMING.

Cheyenne, Nov. 9.—Wyoming has elected Bryant B. Brooks for governor and has given a plurality for the Republican presidential candidates of about 3,500 with several districts to be heard from.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—The result of the presidential election in Maryland was very close, the returns received thus far indicating that the Republicans have carried the state by a small plurality.

MICHIGAN.

Lansing, Nov. 9.—Michigan shows a plurality for Republican presidential electors of about 125,000.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Nov. 9. — Roosevelt and Fairbanks will have a plurality in this state of about 75,000.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Joseph W. Folk, Democratic candidate for governor, has been elected by a plurality of about 30,000, the Parker and Davis vote showing a plurality of about 22,000.

MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson, Nov. 9.—The election in Mississippi shows a plurality of about 50,000 for the Democratic national ticket

MASSACHUSETTS.

William L. Douglas, Democratic candidate for governor, has a plurality of about 25,000. Roosevelt's plurality is about 80,000.

MONTANA.

Helena, Nov. 9.—The Republican national and state tickets have been elected.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Nov. 9. — Nebraska, the home state of William J. Bryan, has cast its vote for the Republican candidates, Roosevelt and Fairbanks having an apparent plurality of about 25,000.

NEVADA.

Carson City, Nov. 9.—Returns from this state are incomplete but point to the election of the Fusion ticket, composed of the Silver and Democratic parties.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Concord, Nov. 9.—The Republican plurality for state and national ticket is about 15,000.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, Nov. 9.—The Republican ticket headed by Edward C. Stokes for governor has received a plurality of 40,000. Roosevelt's plurality will be 60,000.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—The Democratic plurality in this state will exceed 50,000.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Bismarck, Nov. 9.—Returns thus far received indicate that the Republican candidates will have at least 10 000 plurality.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 9.—The Republicans have a plurality of about 10,000.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Columbia, Nov. 9.—Democratic plurality in South Carolina will exceed 40,000.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Pierre, Nov. 9.—South Dakota gives the Republican ticket a plurality of about 40,000. The next governor will be Louis N. Crill.

TEXAS.

Austin, Nov. 9.—As an offset to the Republican plurality in Pennsylvania the Lone Star state gives Parker and Davis 140,000.

TENNESSEE.

Nashville, Nov. 9.—The Democrats have a plurality of about 25,000.

UTAH.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 9.—Returns to this time indicate that the Republicans have carried the state by a plurality of about 10,000.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond, Nov. 9. — Virginia has cast her vote for the Democracy, Parker and Davis receiving a plurality of at least 25,000.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 9.—William L. Douglas, Democratic candidate for governor, has a plurality of about 25,000. Roosevelt's plurality is about 80,000.

WASHINGTON.

Olympia, Nov. 9.—Albert E. Mead for governor and Charles E. Coon for lieutenant governor and the entire Republican state and national tickets have been elected by about 10,000 plurality.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Charleston, Nov. 9.—Returns received thus far indicate that the Republicans have carried the home state of Vice Presidential Candidate Davis by about 11,000 plurality.

Parker Congratulates the President.

Esopus, Nov. 9.—At 8:30 p. m. last night Judge Parker sent this telegram to the president:

"Rosemount, Esopus, Nov. 8.

"The President, Washington, D. C.

"The people by their votes have emphatically approved your administration and I congratulate you.

"Alton B. Parker."

Washington, Nov. 9. — President Roosevelt's reply to Judge Parker's telegram was as follows:

"Alton B. Parker, Rosemount, N. Y.

"I thank you for your congratulations. Theodore Roosevelt."

In the President's County.

Mineola, L. I., Nov. 9.—Roosevelt's plurality in Nassau county will be close to 3,000. Republicans have undoubtedly elected William W. Cocks to congress and W. G. Miller to the assembly. Roosevelt carried his own town, Oyster Bay, by about 600.

OHIO.

Columbus, Nov. 9.—Lewis C. Laylin and the entire Republican state ticket has been elected. The plurality of votes received by Roosevelt and Fairbanks will be at least 100,000.

ARKANSAS.

Little Rock, Nov. 9.—Parker and Davis have carried Arkansas by 35,000 plurality. There were five national tickets in the field.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham, Nov. 9.—The vote in this state for presidential electors was cast for the Democratic national ticket, Parker and Davis receiving a plurality of about 50,000. The People's Party, Prohibitionist and Socialist vote was small.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—The Republicans have carried this state by 35,000. The Republican state ticket, headed by William G. Lonigan for supreme court justice, has been elected by a slightly lower vote than that cast for the national ticket.

COLORADO.

Denver, Nov. 9.—Roosevelt appears to have carried Colorado by 5,000 plurality. Alva Adams for governor and the entire Democratic state ticket have been elected. Six parties were represented on the ballots.

CONNECTICUT.

Hartford, Nov. 9.—Henry Roberts for governor and Rollin Woodruff for lieutenant governor together with the entire Republican state ticket have been elected. The exact figures have not been determined, but indications point to a Republican plurality in the state of at least 20,000.

DELAWARE.

Dover, Nov. 9.—Delaware electors had the opportunity of choosing from six tickets in yesterday's election. The result is very close but returns received thus far indicate a plurality of about 5,000 for the Republican ticket.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—The strenuous campaign which has been waged by the two great parties in the home state of the Republican candidate for vice president has resulted in the election of the Republican ticket by a plurality of 40,000. Several districts are yet to be heard from. This may slightly change these figures.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Nov. 9.—A plurality of over 75,000 has been given the Republican national ticket in Iowa, William B. Martin for secretary of state and the remainder of the Republican state ticket having been elected.

KANSAS.

Topeka, Nov. 9. — Roosevelt and Fairbanks have carried the state by about 15,000 plurality. Owing to the fusion of the Democrats with a wing of the silver party, indications point to the election of Democrats to minor offices on the state ticket.

KENTUCKY.

Frankfort, Nov. 9.—Kentucky gives Parker and Davis a plurality of 8,500.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—The Democratic majority in the state will be about 39,000.

MAINE.

Augusta, Nov. 9.—The election in Maine gives Roosevelt and Fairbanks about 37,000 plurality.

OREGON.

Salem, Nov. 9.—Republicans have carried the state by 12 000.

Paliser, Manager of Watson's Campaign, Announces That Steps Will Be Taken at Once to Form a New Party — Proposed Conference of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Watson and William R. Hearst.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Republican national ticket has been elected by a vote in the electoral college that will exceed that of 292 given to McKinley in 1900. The result of the balloting was astounding even to the most sanguine of the Republican managers.

Confident as they were of success, they were not prepared for the astonishing figures which followed the closing of the polls, bringing into the Republican column not only all of those states they had claimed as safe for their candidates, but w[illegible] the possible exception of Maryland, every state classed as doubtful.

Democratic successes are confined to the solid South in which Kentucky is included and Mr. Parker has not carried a single state which did not give its vote to Mr. Bryan four years ago. Returns show that he has lost some of those which the Nebraskan candidate held for his party.

Official figures from some of the Northwest states may slightly change the totals, but based on the returns available at a late hour the electoral vote stands as follows:

As a dramatic climax to the sensational majorities given him, came President Roosevelt's formal announcement that he would not be a candidate for re-election, lending the only exciting aspect to an election night otherwise so one sided that it was impossible for even the victors to attain that degree of enthusiasm which usually marks the occasion. Late in the night came an announcement from Melvin G. Paliser, manager of the campaign for Thomas E. Watson, presidential candidate of the Peoples party, that as a result of the overwhelming Democratic defeats steps would be taken to form a new party. To this end, according to announcement given out, Mr. Bryan, Mr. Watson and William R. Hearst would hold a conference in New York in about a week's time.

President Received the News.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Surrounded by his family and a company of personal friends, President Roosevelt received the news of his overwhelming victory.

The first information of a definite character was received by the president while he was at dinner in the nature of assurances that he had carried New York, his home state, by a plurality so large as to be really astounding. While the president was gratified, it may be said the result was not entirely unexpected.

He was in the best of spirits, but at no time did he manifest the slightest nervousness or anxiety.

Assured, as he said, that the campaign had been conducted on a plane of principle and patriotism, as lofty as he himself would have it and that everything had been done which legitimately could be done to insure the success of the principles which had been promulgated by the Republican party and by himself, he had awaited with perfect confidence the verdict of the people.

At 10:15 o'clock the president left his guests at the White House and went to his private office. There he greeted cordially a large number of corps of Washington correspondents who had been awaiting him. He chatted freely with them about the result of the election making no attempt to conceal his great gratification at the victory which had been won.

Among the messages received by President Roosevelt was one from his running mate on the Republican ticket, Senator Charles W. Fairbanks. It read:

"The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt:

"Accept my heartiest congratulations upon your well deserved and magnificent victory. Your election is the logical result of your splendid administration. May the four years to come be marked by widespread happiness and prosperity. Mrs. Fairbanks joins me in best wishes to Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself.

"Charles W. Fairbanks."

As state after state in its Republican majority and the wires told the tale of the ballots, bringing even from those commonwealths upon which they had based their figures of Democratic success, reports of unprecedented Republican majorities, they frankly conceded their defeat and offered no explanation. Soon after Mr. Belmont's admission Judge Parker acknowledged the situation by telegraphing President Roosevelt his congratulations.

Beginning with the state of New York, which gives a Republican plurality of approximately 185,000, the tale runs practically throughout the country, Kentucky alone showing Democratic gains. Indiana is credited with at least 40,000 plurality, Iowa 125,000, and Pennsylvania heads the list as the banner Republican state, with the magnificent plurality of 325,000. Even in the Southern states the vote has been light, Georgia's Democratic majority being only between 30,000 and 40,000. Texas will probably not exceed 100,000. Nevada, which was carried by Mr. Bryan four years ago, is Republican, and the indications are that Montana, Idaho and Colorado, also Democratic in 1900, have gone back into the Republican column. Delaware is elected at about 50,000 Republican, Massachusetts about 90,000, and Connecticut, in which the more sanguine of the Democratic leaders claimed to have had hopes, is about 25,000.

While on the national ticket the Democrats have suffered a crushing defeat, they have retrieved themselves on some state tickets. They have reversed the national vote by electing governors in Massachusetts,

Parker Received the News.

Esopus, Nov. 9.—Judge Parker received election returns at Esopus. He appeared to be not at all downcast by the result, although it is known that he greatly deplored his overwhelming defeat in his own state. He received the discouraging news in his study, where he sat smoking with two of his neighbors.

In the village of Esopus there was genuine grief manifested by Democrats, who gathered in the two inns and the railway station at the discouraging character of the returns. Many had foreseen the result as based upon the returns for the village, which Judge Parker had failed to carry by 14 votes. The bonfire prepared for the occasion was not lighted. A large number of Democrats had placed wagers on the national result and local pride in the candidate had made betting even. In few instances had odds been asked or given.

VERMONT.

Montpelier, Nov. 9. — Republican plurality will be about 28,000.

AFTER THE NOVEMBER CYCLONE.
